

A man with a beard and glasses, wearing a blue shirt, is focused on his work in a printing press. He is leaning over a wooden tray filled with individual pieces of metal type, known as galleys. The background shows the complex machinery of the press, with various rollers and frames. The lighting is warm and focused on the man's hands and the tray.

Staff Engagement at the National Print Museum

Looking for a unique and meaningful way
to engage your team?

At the National Print Museum, we offer hands-on letterpress workshops, demonstration tours, and evening events.

Step away from screens, slow the pace, and discover the magic of traditional printing.

From setting type to pulling prints on historic presses, your team can roll up their sleeves, get creative, and reconnect through a truly tactile experience, and a genuine digital detox!

As a registered charity, choosing the National Print Museum also means supporting the preservation of Ireland's printing heritage, helping us keep our remarkable collection, skills, and stories alive for future generations.

Workshops at the Museum

Join one of our artists for a two-hour, hands-on workshop at the Museum.

Each session provides a creative introduction to traditional and contemporary printing techniques, with plenty of opportunities to experiment, collaborate, and take home a printed keepsake.

Current workshop options include:

Letterpress Printing:

Handset type and print on historic presses

Playful Printing:

Experiment with LEGO and P22 Blox printing

Additional creative experiences are also available, such as Modern Calligraphy and Japanese Woodblock Printing, subject to availability.

Group size: max 16-20 participants

Duration: 2 hours (full and half-day workshops also available)

Prices: from €600 ex VAT

Optional catering: available at neighbouring café Press

---

Workshops at Your Workplace

Bring our pop-up print shop to your office!

We provide live printing demonstrations and hands-on creative experiences tailored to your team.

Current workshop options include:

Live printing:

We can create a bespoke poster for your event and invite your guests to roll up their sleeves to pull their own print

Playful Printing:

Drop-in experimental printing with LEGO and P22 Blox

It's a relaxed, engaging way to mark a special occasion, spark creativity, and give your team a memorable analogue break from the working day.

Group size: no maximum, first come, first served!

Prices: from €300 ex VAT per hour for two hours

Price lowers for successive hours.
